

About Natasha

I am a Senior Associate Solicitor in the Serious Injury team at Irwin Mitchell. I joined Irwin Mitchell in 2007 and act exclusively for clients who have sustained serious injuries. I have a varied caseload focusing on claims following road traffic collisions, accidents at work and public liability. I primarily represent clients who have suffered from serious orthopedic injuries and amputations. I am accredited by the Association of Personal Injury Lawyers (APIL) as a Senior Litigator and a member of the Law Society's Personal Injury Accreditation Scheme.

I became a lawyer to help make a real difference to people who need clear and skilled advice at a traumatic and often life changing time.

I am passionate about rehabilitation as I have seen how early intervention following an amputation enables an individual to optimise their physical, social, and psychological state. I therefore focus on securing early interim payments to ensure that my clients can access rehabilitation and improve their quality of life through the claim process.

Clients are at the heart of everything we do at Irwin Mitchell and seeing a client walk following amputation or return to independence for the first time makes everything worthwhile.

Outside of the office, I spend time with my family. Having two active young boys requires me to always be available to fight the dinosaur of the day!
